Mansell eyes 2009 race return

EX-FORMULA 1 World Champion Nigel Mansell has revealed that he has a number of opportunities to return to the race track in 2009.

Mansell, who has not raced since May 2007, stated that he had "real options in prototypes, GT2 and GT3". Those include sharing a car with sons

Greg and Leo in the new Formula Le Mans sportscar series and two potential Le Mans 24 Hours drives.

Mansell has already tested the Team Modena Ferrari 430 GT that Leo is racing this year and expects to drive it again soon. Modena boss Rik Bryan has refused to
